Sign-in and registered-user check

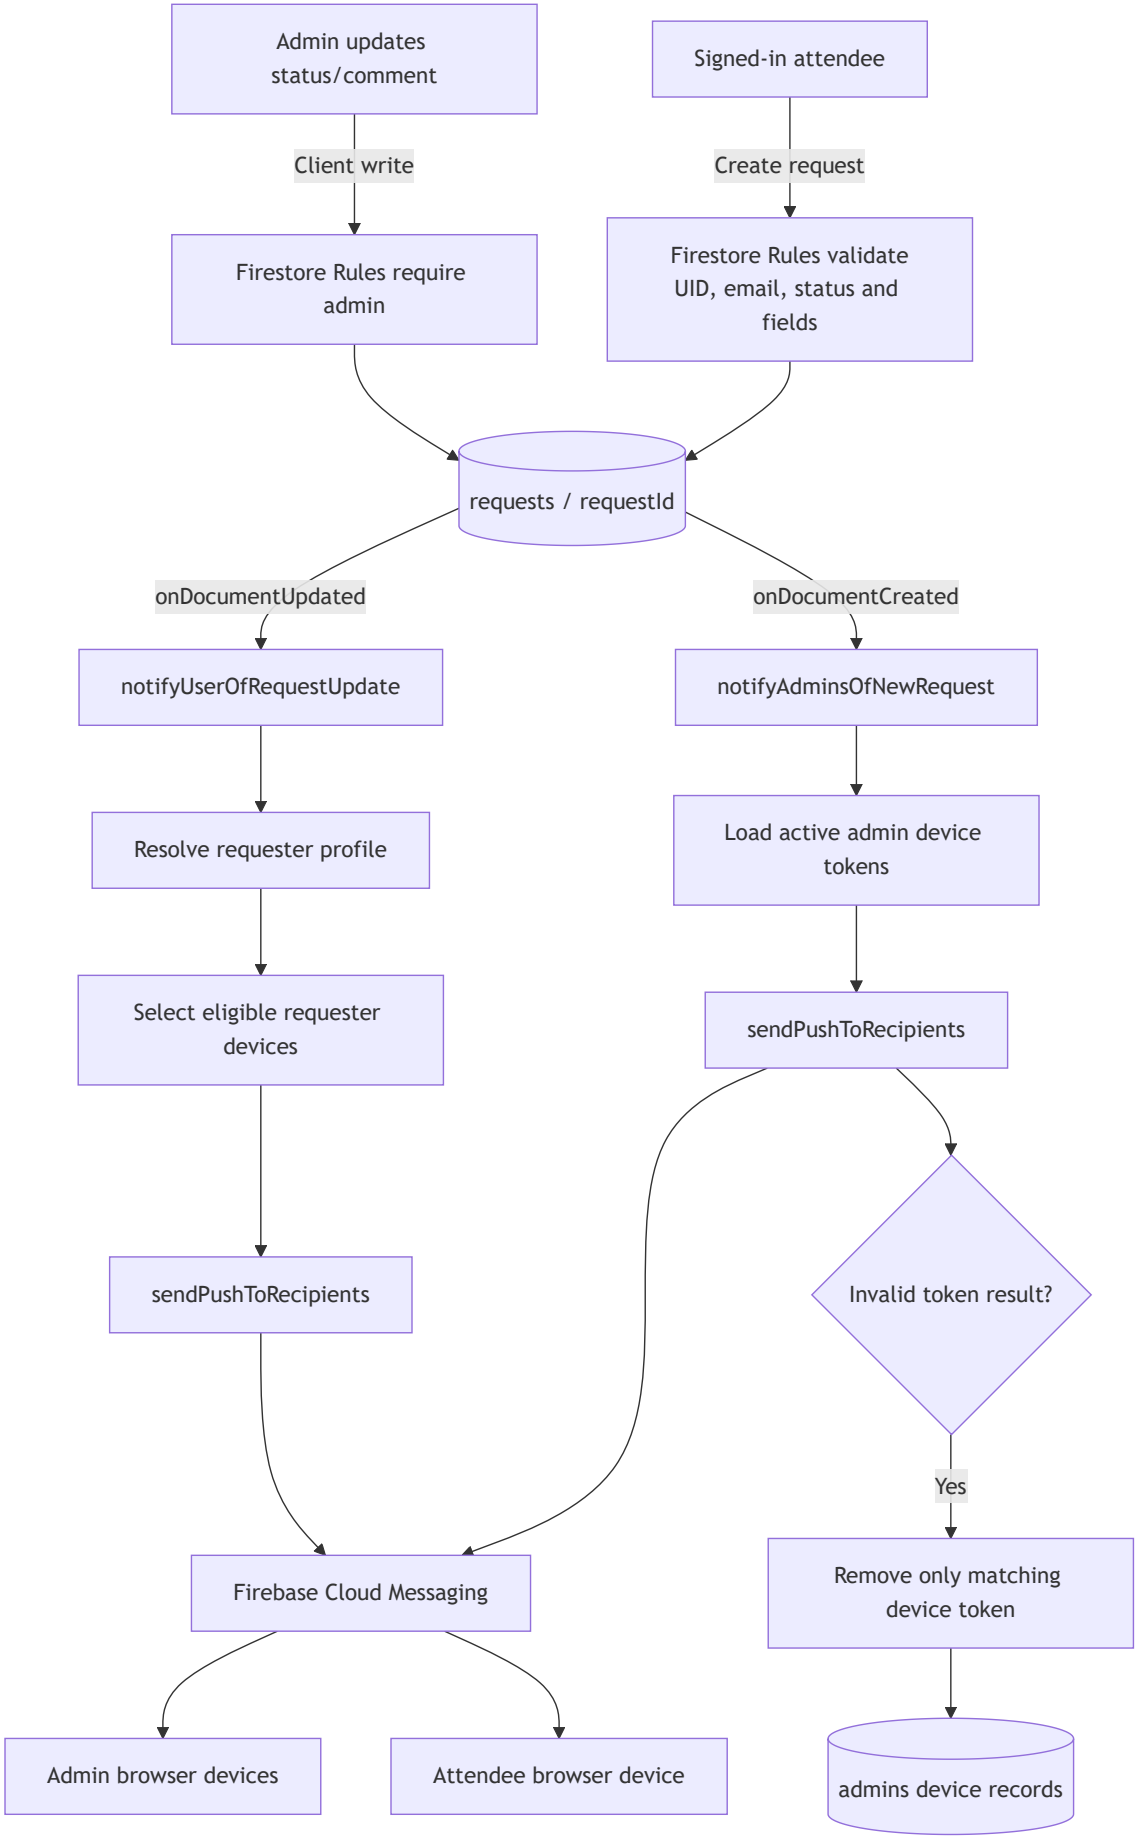

Firebase Authentication proves identity; it does not establish authorization to read or mutate every application record. The fallback is client-side and remains subject to Firestore Rules. Privileged backend actions must enforce access again inside their callable.

Callable Function authorization

Firestore request triggers

Immediate and scheduled notification campaigns

Scheduled session reminders

